

ASHA HARRISON
Director
Health Services & Facility Planner

EXPERIENCE

Asha's health services and facility planning career commenced in 2012. Since that time she has gained extensive experience working in metropolitan locations along with remote regional locations and has a thorough understanding of cultural sensitivities and operational complexities of delivering health care in remote locations.

Asha's clinical health experience as a Paramedic has enabled her to develop strong and effective skills and she has been an integral member on multiple complex, staged new build and redevelopment projects ensuring a service delivery driven outcome.

With a keen interest in Model of Care development & service delivery reform, Asha analyses the current scope, reviews the demand, undertakes a GAP analysis, facilitates workshops and collaboratively develops new Models of Care with providers in accordance with contemporary health care trends. Asha then effectively translates the demand and service delivery model into facility requirements.

Asha has developed multiple strategic, service delivery and planning documents, and has managed and facilitated user groups for planning and design across numerous health infrastructure capital works projects throughout Western Australia, ACT and Queensland.
